

Wall of Fame at Michigan Stadium

The Michigan High School Football Coaches Association opened its “Wall of Fame” at the University of Michigan Stadium in October 2010. The Wall of Fame displays each class of Hall of Fame Coaches and on individual plaques, the current inductees. Tonight’s inductees’ plaques will be hung later this spring to replace those inducted last year. In the spring of 2012, after one year of having this years inductees’ plaques displayed for the entire Michigan Wolverine’s football season, our current inductees’ plaques will be taken down, mounted on a wood backing and delivered to tonight’s new Hall of Fame members. The wall also features the names of the “Gold Brick” schools, whose contributions helped to make the Wall of Fame a reality. Find the Wall of Fame on the inside of the South East Tower (nearest Chrisler Arena) at the stadium.
